

FACTS

WHAT DOES MERRICK BANK DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income
- Payment history and assets
- Credit history and credit scores

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Merrick Bank chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Other important information

Special Notice for Vermont Residents: The information sharing practices described above are in accordance with federal law. Vermont law places additional limits on sharing information about Vermont residents so long as they remain residents of Vermont. In accordance with Vermont law, Merrick Bank will not share information we collect about Vermont residents to companies outside of Merrick Bank except: (1) As permitted by law; (2) To companies that perform marketing or other services on our behalf; (3) Name, contact and transaction and experience information (such as your account balance and payment history) to other financial institutions with which we have joint marketing agreements; or (4) With the authorization or consent of the Vermont resident. Merrick Bank also will not share non-transactional information about Vermont residents received from others within the Merrick Bank family of companies except with the authorization or consent of the Vermont resident.

Special Notice for California Residents: We only disclose your Personal Information with our affiliates and nonaffiliated third parties in a manner that is permitted under the California Financial Information Privacy Act (CFIPA) and federal law. In general, CFIPA requires us (1) to provide you with notice and the right to tell us not to disclose your Personal Information before we disclose such information to our affiliates or other financial institutions with which we have joint marketing agreements, and (2) to seek your express consent before we disclose your Personal Information to nonaffiliated third parties for marketing purposes. This means that unless we provide you with notice and the opportunity to tell us not to share your Personal Information, or seek your express consent to do so, we will not share your Personal Information with other financial service providers and non-financial parties except for the purpose of fulfilling your request for credit, as you may otherwise direct us to do so, or as otherwise permitted under CFIPA and federal law. You will receive a separate notice of your rights under the CFIPA.
